

Hi!

Thanks for your order of fresh Eucalyptus!

We hope your pet(s) enjoy the Leaves & chew sticks, and you enjoy the fine aroma and other benefits of the mighty Eucalyptus!

EucProducts of California

Please note: if some of the leaves have brown spots on them, that's Ok... it just means those leaves didn't get as much direct sunlight... they are probably still fine for your pet(s).

Care and Storage of Leaves

Your order should have a few dried leaves at the bottom of the bag, and mostly fresh leaves. Some of the leaves may be "perfectly clean", while others are not. RINSE OFF the leaves and wipe them with a damp cloth or paper towel. Pat the leaves almost dry. Place them in a vase or bowl and keep the stems in water (like you would a cut flower) or put them back in their baggie (Unzipped!) and place them in the refrigerator, with the bag open. Every week or two, get the leaves wet and/or soak the sticks for a few minutes to help keep them hydrated. If mold starts to form, remove the leaves from the bag but still keep them cool. Your leaves should stay fresh for 2-4 weeks. The leaves can also be frozen and they "defrost" just fine.

"Present" the Eucs to your Pet(s):

Fresh Leaves: Either loose or on a branch, the fresh leaves are the most popular Euc item.

- Make a "bed" of leaves in your pet's cage for them to lie on and play with.
- Hang leaves or sticks from outside the cage, hanging in and down.
- Notice if they like to nibble on the sticks or the leaves, or both. In your next order, we can adjust the quantities to suit your pet's natural inclinations.

Dried Leaves: Mostly for you, but your pet might like them, too!

- Use them for potpourri, burn them, or boil them for a wonderful aroma or for a healing vaporizer.
- And -- are you ready for this? -- before you vacuum your house, crumple up a dried leaf or two into small bits, and drop it on the floor... then vacuum the Euc leaves up first. The aromatic leaves will act like an air freshener using the exhaust air from the vacuum cleaner and make your whole house smell fresh and clean!!
